CARROLL McCRAY

HEAD COACH | 6th SEASON | GARDNER-WEBB '83

Gardner-Webb head coach Carroll McCray (Class of '83) enters his sixth season in charge of his alma mater's football program in 2017, with his Runnin' Bulldogs poised to make a push back to the top half of the Big South Conference.

McCray will continue a rebuilding effort that he embarked upon in 2013, mixing an infusion of youthful talent with veteran experience in 2018. During his time at GWU, McCray has adjusted the culture quickly along with instilling pride into the program for which he once played.

McCray's teams have proven to be giant slayers during his time in Boiling Springs, knocking off five teams ranked in the top-15 since 2013, including last season's Big South Conference champion and eighth-ranked Charleston Southern on November 5. In its eight seasons at the Division I level before McCray's return to campus, Gardner-Webb had won just twice against top-25 opponents.

Success off the field has continued to materialize, as GWU's rise academically under McCray's watch has been significant. Lucas Beatty earned FCS ADA Academic All-Star honors in 2014 and Tyler Hough-Jenkins was named Academic All-District III. The team's cumulative GPA has been among the best in program history under McCray and the he has directed a staff that has been instrumental in drastically improving the team's APR score.

McCray's initial season coaching his alma mater was a strong beginning. The Monroe, N.C., native directed GWU to a 7-5 record – its highest win total since 2003 – and a 3-1 record against nationally-ranked teams. GWU spent two weeks in the national top-25 and made strides in the classroom as well. Gardner-Webb had two men selected first-team Capital One Academic All-District III and Keon Williams was chosen to speak at spring commencement. Four others earned FCS All-America honors on the field. McCray came back to Boiling Springs in January, 2013, after spending the 2012 season as the head coach at North Greenville University. He has previous stops as associate head coach at Mercer and as head coach at Austin Peay. As an assistant, McCray has an outstanding track record with stops at Furman, Mississippi State, Samford, South Carolina and Appalachian State. McCray is the ninth head coach in Gardner-Webb's senior college history. He is the first alumnus to serve as head coach of the Runnin' Bulldogs since Woody Fish did so from 1984-1996.

Despite inheriting a team that returned just 11 starters at North Greenville, McCray molded the Crusaders into a competitive program by season's end in 2012. North Greenville won five of its final six games in 2012, including victories over South Atlantic Conference members Newberry, Brevard, Catawba and Wingate.

McCray got his start in coaching at Appalachian State in 1984, serving under Coach Sparky Woods as a graduate assistant coach working with tight ends and tackles. After earning his master's degree in 1985, McCray began a full-time stint under Woods, helping the Mountaineers to their first Southern Conference title in 32 years in 1986. In three seasons coaching the team's outside linebackers, McCray saw Appalachian State post a 38-19-2 record, two SoCon titles and two top-10 finishes in the I-AA national polls. The Mountaineers also made playoff appearances in 1986 and 1987 with a combined 20-5-1 record.

McCray followed Woods to the University of South Carolina, coaching the Gamecocks offensive line, tight ends and H-Backs from 1989-1993. While in Columbia, McCray tutored future first-round draft pick Earnest Dye, and was part of a staff that helped the program transition to the Southeastern Conference. Dye became the program's first All-SEC selection before being selected with the 18th overall pick in the 1993 draft by the Cardinals. McCray pupils Calvin Stephens (Patriots, 1991), Corey Louchiey (Bills, 1994) and James Dexter (Cardinals, 1996) also went on to be drafted.

Following his time at South Carolina, McCray coached the offensive line at Samford from 1994-2000, helping the Bulldogs to winning records five times in his seven seasons with the program. In 2000, Samford rushed for a school-record 3,439 yards and 41 touchdowns. Offensive tackle Phillip Duplantis earned first-team Division I-AA All-Independents honors under McCray's guidance in 1999. Tight end Aaron Bryant went on to sign a free agent contract with the Tennessee Titans in 1999.

He worked under legendary head coach Jackie Sherrill for two seasons at Mississippi State (2001-2002), with center Tommy Watson signing a free agent contract with the NFL's Tennessee Titans in 2002 and tackle David Stewart drafted once his career in Starkville concluded in 2005.

McCray earned his first head coaching job in 2003, serving as head coach at Austin Peay from 2003-2006. McCray took over a non-scholarship program in Clarksville, Tenn., and was charged with directing the Governors from the Pioneer League back to the Ohio Valley Conference. During his tenure, 13 Governors earned All-Pioneer League honors and eight were named Academic All-America.

He coached the offensive line at Furman from 2007-2010, tutoring five All-SoCon selections for the Paladins – including 2008 Jacobs Blocking Trophy winner Joel Bell. Bell earned All-America honors that same season and signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills. The Paladins posted winning records in three of McCray's seasons on staff. Guard Ryan Lee went on to sign a free agent contract with the Steelers in 2012.

McCray spent one season as Associate Head Coach at Mercer University, assisting head coach Bobby Lamb in starting a new Division I FCS non-scholarship program in Macon, Ga. He was named head coach at North Greenville on January 15, 2012.

He was a three-year letterwinner on the offensive line at Gardner-Webb under Coach Tom Moore, teaming with future Hall of Famers Cameron Brooks, Charlie Harbison, Chip Stuart and Ralph Warthen in the early 1980s. As a senior in 1982, McCray and the Runnin' Bulldogs stormed their way to a 7-3 record – tying the program record to that point for senior college wins and posting the team's first winning ledger since 1977.

McCray graduated in 1983 with a degree in social science. He and his wife Angel, also a graduate of Gardner-Webb, have two children: Trey and Meredith.

BABY BULLDOGS

Gardner-Webb played at least 20 true freshmen and redshirt freshmen in each of its first two games this season, and that number hasn't slacked off much since then – with GWU suiting up at least 15 freshman in each of its first five games. GWU has started 10 different freshmen overall in 2018, including eight on defense. Heading into this week's Homecoming Game, a stunning 45.5% of the two-deep chart (20-of-44 spots) on offense and defense is made up of freshmen. Two more freshmen start on the eight-man specialist depth chart.

HALL OF FAME 2018

Gardner-Webb will induct three new members into its Athletics Hall of Fame on Friday evening, and will honor that trio, prior to kickoff on Saturday afternoon. Swimmer Taylor Simpson Jackson (2002-2006), basketball standout Thomas Sanders (2006-2008) and three-sport star Jerry Walker (1959-1961) will be inducted. Walker played football, basketball and ran track during his time in Boiling Springs. Simpson Jackson was a two-time Academic All-America selection and 12-time conference champion in the pool. Sanders averaged a double-double his senior season to earn Atlantic Sun Conference Player of the Year honors and honorable mention All-America accolades. Gardner-Webb will also honor longtime Shelby Star sports editor Alan Ford with its Meritorious Service Award. Ford covered the Runnin' Bulldogs for more than 30 years during his time at the Star.

✓ HOT ROUTES

- ✓ Gardner-Webb's 2017 schedule ranked as the toughest in the FCS according to NCAA.com and the 2018 slate currently ranks No. 6 in terms of toughness according to the NCAA.
- ✓ Gardner-Webb has allowed a 100-yard rusher in eight-straight games, dating back to the 2017 season. In six games this season, GWU has seen 10 different opposing runners top the 100-yard mark – including eight in the past four games.
- ✓ 71.1% of Gardner-Webb's 90-man roster are underclassmen in 2018.
- ✓ Gardner-Webb's last win over an FCS program came on November 16, 2016 in Spangler Stadium – a 34-33 overtime win vs. Monmouth. GWU has dropped 12 FCS games in a row.
- ✓ GWU has seen 69 of its football standouts earn postseason FCS All-America honors since 2000, including linebacker Chad Geter and quarterback Tyrell Maxwell in 2016.
- ✓ Running back Jayln Cagle needs just 25 rushing yards to reach the 1,000-yard mark for his career in Boiling Springs. The former A.L. Brown (N.C.) High standout led GWU with 117 yards and two touchdowns in the opener.
- ✓ All four quarterbacks currently on Gardner-Webb's 2018 roster are freshmen. Three are redshirt freshmen and one is a true freshman.
- ✓ A pair of men with Gardner-Webb connections will coach in the NFL this season. Hall of Famer and Gardner-Webb graduate Charlie Harbison will coach the secondary for the Arizona Cardinals after a long college career. Former defensive coordinator Randall McCray will serve as assistant special teams coach with the Cardinals this season after moving on from FBS Texas State. McCray is the younger brother of GWU head coach Carroll McCray.

THE HEAD COACHES

Gardner-Webb head coach Carroll McCray (Class of '83) returned to his alma mater in 2013 and is 22-41 so far in his time in Boiling Springs. Brian Bohannon (Georgia '93) built the Kennesaw State program from the ground up and has gone 31-11 so far in his fourth season. Bohannon was named 2017 AFCA National Coach of the Year at the FCS level.

MORE FRESHMEN NOTES

Gardner-Webb has compiled 32 total freshmen starts so far in 2018, including six each by quarterback Jordan Smith, defensive end John Singleton and punter Crimmins Hankinson ... Exactly half of the 32 freshmen starts this season have come from the State of Georgia (16) ... Other states represented are North Carolina (10) and Florida (6) ... Seven starts have come from former North Carolina Shrine Bowlers Singleton (6) and Matt Robinson (1).

ENGINE NO. 9

Quarterback Jordan Smith (6-1, 211, R-Fr.) has started each of the first six games in 2018 and has seen several bright spots along the way. The Fruit Cove, Fla., has been at his best when faced with second or third down – and medium yardage. In those situations, he has gone 9-of-12 (75.0%) with seven first-down completions. Smith has passed for 915 yards and three scores so far in 2018, scrambling out of pressure despite 21 sacks registered by the opposition to date.

HIGH DEGREE OF DIFFICULTY

One season ago, Gardner-Webb entertained the nation's most difficult schedule according to the NCAA. In 2018, the Runnin' Bulldogs are tackling another very difficult slate, ranking No. 6 nationally after games of October 7. No other Big South program's schedule is currently rated in the top-25 in terms of difficulty. GWU will be the first team in the FCS this season to do battle with three top-10 teams when No. 2 Kennesaw State comes to town. The 'Dogs have already fallen to No. 5 North Carolina A&T and No. 6 Wofford in prior weeks. Four of Gardner-Webb's first five FCS opponents this season are currently ranked in the top-25 (No. 2 Kennesaw State, No. 4 Wofford, No. 10 North Carolina A&T and No. 23 ETSU). Four more – Campbell, Charleston Southern, Monmouth and Western Carolina – have each received votes at least one week during the 2018 regular season.

SPEED DEMON

Receiver and return man Kyle Horton (5-11, 178, Sr.) is fully healthy in his final campaign and has proven to be a dangerous weapon so far – despite not reaching the end zone through the season's first six games. The former Mallard Creek (N.C.) High standout has hauled in 23 balls for 305 yards (13.3 yards per catch) and has remained a dynamic punt returner. Horton ranks No. 4 nationally with an average of 18.4 yards per return so far in 2018, bringing eight punts back for 147 yards. He caught six passes for 96 yards at No. 5 North Carolina A&T and hauled in three balls for 61 yards vs. Western Carolina. Horton added five catches for 74 yards vs. No. 6 Wofford.

QUICK MOVE

Current backup nose guard David Wilson (6-3, 332, R-Fr.) found out he was moving from his reserve offensive line spot to defense on Thursday, September 27 during team stretch. The Hope Mills, N.C., native found himself on the field against No. 6 Wofford two days later and remains in the rotation at nose guard heading into Week Six. Wilson fared well against the Terriers statistically, making a pair of tackles and forcing a red zone fumble that Gardner-Webb recovered to thwart a deep Wofford drive. Wilson was one of seven freshmen on the field at once during several second-half series for the Gardner-Webb defense vs. Wofford. He also saw snaps at ETSU (10/6) at nose guard.

BOOM BOOM

First-year starter Tre' Jackson (5-10, 226, R-Jr.) has proven to be a powerful kicker through six games. The Newland, N.C., native has connected on three of his four field goal attempts this season, including a 41-yarder vs. Western Carolina (9/14) and a 40-yarder at No. 5 North Carolina A&T (9/8). He has been perfect on PAT kicks as well. Jackson's most impressive performance has come on kickoffs, where he has boomed 12-of-19 attempts into – or out of – the end zone for touchbacks. His 12 touchbacks are more than double the next highest total in the Big South so far this season.

FOOTBALL FAMILIES

Gardner-Webb features two families on its current roster with strong ties to college football. Nose guard Josh Ramseur (5-11, 286, R-Sr.), who will seek a medical redshirt in 2018, is one of five brothers in his family to play college football. Older brothers Kenneth (Gardner-Webb) and Tim (NC State) played collegiately in the 1990s, while brothers Tank (Tuskegee) and Aaron (East Carolina) are currently on college rosters. Another set of brothers on Gardner-Webb's roster – Robert McKoy and Keante McNair – are part of a group of four brothers to play college football. Older siblings Terrell Manning (NC State) and Artemis Robinson (NC State) played collegiately, with Manning drafted by the Green Bay Packers in 2012. Current GWU teammates and brothers Elijah Rodgers (Fr.) and Kobe Rodgers (R-So.) are both expected to garner snaps in the secondary this season for the Runnin' Bulldogs.

SYMMETRY

For the first time since moving up to NCAA Division I in 2000, Gardner-Webb will alternate home and road dates evenly throughout a season. GWU almost pulled off the feat in 2010, but played its final two games back-to-back at home in Ernest W. Spangler Stadium.

FUTURE SCHEDULES

Gardner-Webb has added a handful of future FBS opponents for coming seasons, beginning with back-to-back games to open the 2019 campaign at Charlotte and East Carolina. With the addition of Hampton and North Alabama to the Big South slate, Gardner-Webb's 2019 schedule is complete. In addition to Charlotte, East Carolina, Gardner-Webb will have 2019 non-conference dates with North Carolina Central, Wofford and Western Carolina. GWU will play two future FBS games against nearby foes, traveling to face Georgia Tech in 2020 and Liberty in 2022.

NEW FACES ON STAFF

Gardner-Webb has three new coaches on its 2018 staff. Inside linebackers coach Taylor Anderson and running backs coach Arketa Banks each joined the Runnin' Bulldogs prior to spring practice. Anderson came to GWU after assistant coaching stops at Limestone and Valdosta State, and Banks came to GWU from former SAC rival Lenoir-Rhyne. Outside linebackers coach Marco Butler came on board during the summer months from Catawba. Anderson (North Greenville), Banks (Elon) and Butler (Western Carolina) each played collegiately at schools in the region.

MORE MOVES

Gardner-Webb was forced to make additional position moves last week due to injuries, particularly on the defensive side. Three-star safety Malachi Buckner (6-1, 200, Fr.) moved up to the SPUR linebacker spot on the depth chart and saw significant snaps against No. 6 Wofford. Buckner finished with three solo stops, one tackle for loss and a forced fumble in the game – with the fumble leading to a GWU touchdown on the ensuing drive. The former Tucker (Ga.) High standout is a natural at the position and is in line for even more playing time in October. Buckner made his first start at ETSU (10/6).

ESPN+

The Big South Conference entered into an agreement to provide content for ESPN+ (ESPNplus.com) beginning last spring, and that presents a new platform for Gardner-Webb football going forward. The Big South Network on ESPN+ will air a minimum of 900 events annually as part of the agreement, which runs through the 2024-2025 season. During football season, a total of 33 events will stream on ESPN platforms, with eight league games on ESPN3 and 25 on ESPN+. Five of Gardner-Webb's six home games will stream on ESPN+, while the October 13 game vs. Kennesaw State will stream on ESPN3 as part of the Big South's "Game of the Week" selection. The October 29 road game at Campbell will also be carried by ESPN3, while the remainder of Gardner-Webb's Big South games will stream on ESPN+. Non-conference games at ETSU and Appalachian State will also stream live on ESPN+.

BIG BAD JOHN

Gardner-Webb defensive end John Singleton (6-5, 240, R-Fr.) was a bright spot at Sun Belt powerhouse Appalachian State on September 22, finishing the game with a career-high six stops (three solo) and a sack. The former Middle Creek (N.C.) High standout followed that effort up with a career-high 10 total stops vs. No. 6 Wofford (9/29). Singleton, who has started all six games this season, has posted 24 tackles and 2.0 sacks during his first season on the field.

RAMSEUR OUT

Preseason All-Big South nose guard Josh Ramseur (5-11, 286, R-Sr.) will miss the entire 2018 season after undergoing offseason surgery, but will apply for a medical redshirt and a sixth year of eligibility for 2019. The former Burns (N.C.) High standout totaled 50 tackles as a redshirt junior and is expected to make a full recovery. The bright spot in the extended career is that Ramseur will have a chance to play against his youngest brother — Aaron Ramseur — when Gardner-Webb travels to East Carolina on September 7, 2019.

HIT MAN

Mike linebacker Corey Horne (6-1, 225, Sr.) has been a mature force for Gardner-Webb's young defense so far this season, pacing the Big South Conference with 56 total tackles (38 solo). His 16 stops vs. Western Carolina were a new career-high total, breaking the mark set one week earlier when he had 12 tackles at No. 5 North Carolina A&T (9/8). Horne, who is in his second full season as a starter, ranks No. 10 nationally in solo tackles per game (6.3).

OLD FACES, NEW PLACES

Gardner-Webb moved a pair of players to full-time slot receiver prior to the 2018 season and those moves have been well received so far. Former running back Jonathan Blackmon (6-1, 186, Sr.) caught a career-best nine balls at Appalachian State and is tied for the team lead with 23 catches so far this season. The Fayetteville, N.C., native was an accomplished high school receiver before signing with Gardner-Webb as a running back prior to the 2015 season. Former quarterback Brody Rollins (5-11, 185, Sr.) led Gardner-Webb in receptions last season – despite splitting time at his old position and as a kickoff return man – and provides another excellent option for GWU's young quarterbacks. The Knoxville, Tenn., native missed three games with an injury early in September, but is back in the lineup heading into October action.

UP NEXT

Gardner-Webb welcomes a much needed open date to the schedule on October 20 after seven-straight weeks of a tough 2018 schedule. GWU returns to action the following week on the road, traveling to face in-state foe Campbell for the first time in the sport of football since the two started playing at the senior college level. The two teams played 10 times during their respective junior college eras, with the Camels owning a 4-3-3 series edge. Gardner-Webb won the last meeting on November 11, 1950 by a 12-6 score in Buies Creek. †
