CARROLL MCCRAY

HEAD COACH | 7th SEASON | GARDNER-WEBB '83

Gardner-Webb head coach Carroll McCray (Class of '83) enters his seventh season in charge of his alma mater's football program in 2019, with his Runnin' Bulldogs pushing and fighting back to the top half of the Big South Conference.

McCray will continue a rebuilding effort that he embarked upon in 2013, mixing an infusion of youthful talent with veteran experience. During his time at GWU, McCray has cultivated a positive culture along with instilling pride into the program for which he once played.

McCray's teams have proven to be giant slayers during his time in Boiling Springs, knocking off five teams ranked in the top-15 since 2013. In its eight seasons at the Division I level before McCray's return to campus, Gardner-Webb had won just twice against top-25 opponents.

Success off the field has continued to materialize, as GWU's rise academically under McCray's watch has been significant. Lucas Beatty earned FCS ADA Academic All-Star honors in 2014 and Tyler Hough-Jenkins was named Academic All-District III. The team's cumulative GPA has been among the best in program history under McCray and he has directed a staff that has been instrumental in drastically improving the team's APR score.

McCray's initial season coaching his alma mater was a strong beginning. The Monroe, N.C., native directed GWU to a 7-5 record – its highest win total since 2003 – and a 3-1 record against nationally-ranked teams. GWU spent two weeks in the national top-25 and made strides in the classroom as well. Gardner-Webb had two men selected first-team Capital One Academic All-District III and Keon Williams was chosen to speak at spring commencement. Four others earned FCS All-America honors on the field. McCray came back to Boiling Springs in January, 2013, after spending the 2012 season as the head coach at North Greenville University. He has previous stops as associate head coach at Mercer and as head coach at Austin Peay. As an assistant, McCray has an outstanding track record with stops at Furman, Mississippi State, Samford, South Carolina and Appalachian State. McCray is the ninth head coach in Gardner-Webb's senior college history. He is the first alumnus to serve as head coach of the Runnin' Bulldogs since Woody Fish did so from 1984-1996.

Despite inheriting a team that returned just 11 starters at North Greenville, McCray molded the Crusaders into a competitive program by season's end in 2012. North Greenville won five of its final six games in 2012, including victories over South Atlantic Conference members Newberry, Brevard, Catawba and Wingate.

McCray got his start in coaching at Appalachian State in 1984, serving under Coach Sparky Woods as a graduate assistant coach working with tight ends and tackles. After earning his master's degree in 1985, McCray began a full-time stint under Woods, helping the Mountaineers to their first Southern Conference title in 32 years in 1986. In three seasons coaching the team's outside linebackers, McCray saw Appalachian State post a 38-19-2 record, two SoCon titles and two top-10 finishes in the I-AA national polls.

The Mountaineers also made playoff appearances in 1986 and 1987 with a combined 20-5-1 record.

McCray followed Woods to the University of South Carolina, coaching the Gamecocks offensive line, tight ends and H-Backs from 1989-1993. While in Columbia, McCray tutored future first-round draft pick Earnest Dye, and was part of a staff that helped the program transition to the Southeastern Conference. Dye became the program's first All-SEC selection before being selected with the 18th overall pick in the 1993 draft by the Cardinals. McCray pupils Calvin Stephens (Patriots, 1991), Corey Louchiey (Bills, 1994) and James Dexter (Cardinals, 1996) also went on to be drafted.

Following his time at South Carolina, McCray coached the offensive line at Samford from 1994-2000, helping the Bulldogs to winning records five times in his seven seasons with the program. In 2000, Samford rushed for a school-record 3,439 yards and 41 touchdowns. Offensive tackle Phillip Duplantis earned first-team Division I-AA All-Independents honors under McCray's guidance in 1999. Tight end Aaron Bryant went on to sign a free agent contract with the Tennessee Titans in 1999.

He worked under legendary head coach Jackie Sherrill for two seasons at Mississippi State (2001-2002), with center Tommy Watson signing a free agent contract with the NFL's Tennessee Titans in 2002 and tackle David Stewart drafted once his career in Starkville concluded in 2005.

McCray earned his first head coaching job in 2003, serving as head coach at Austin Peay from 2003-2006. McCray took over a non-scholarship program in Clarksville, Tenn., and was charged with directing the Governors from the Pioneer League back to the Ohio Valley Conference. During his tenure, 13 Governors earned All-Pioneer League honors and eight were named Academic All-America.

He coached the offensive line at Furman from 2007-2010, tutoring five All-SoCon selections for the Paladins – including 2008 Jacobs Blocking Trophy winner Joel Bell. Bell earned All-America honors that same season and signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills. The Paladins posted winning records in three of McCray's seasons on staff. Guard Ryan Lee went on to sign a free agent contract with the Steelers in 2012.

McCray spent one season as Associate Head Coach at Mercer University, assisting head coach Bobby Lamb in starting a new Division I FCS non-scholarship program in Macon, Ga. He was named head coach at North Greenville on January 15, 2012.

He was a three-year letterwinner on the offensive line at Gardner-Webb under Coach Tom Moore, teaming with future Hall of Famers Cameron Brooks, Charlie Harbison, Chip Stuart and Ralph Warthen in the early 1980s. As a senior in 1982, McCray and the Runnin' Bulldogs stormed their way to a 7-3 record – tying the program record to that point for senior college wins and posting the team's first winning ledger since 1977.

McCray graduated in 1983 with a degree in social science. He and his wife Angel, also a graduate of Gardner-Webb, have two children: Trey and Meredith.

THE HEAD COACHES

Gardner-Webb's Carroll McCray ('83) is in his seventh season as head coach of his alma mater. The Monroe, N.C., native has forged 27 wins so far in Boiling Springs, including five wins over top-20 teams. Kennesaw State head coach Brian Bohannon is in his fifth season in charge at Kennesaw State and is 47-14 during that span. A former Gardner-Webb assistant coach (1996), Bohannon has led the Owls to the Division I FCS quarterfinals twice over the past two seasons.

30+ IN LOSSES

Gardner-Webb is allowing an average of 41.5 points per game in its seven losses this season. Two of those losses came at FBS programs Charlotte (49-28) and East Carolina (48-9) and another two coming at SoCon favorite Wofford (49-10) and Big South contender Monmouth (49-28). Campbell took a 49-47 win in three overtimes on October 26 in Boiling Springs and Charleston Southern used a big first half to take a 30-27 win last weekend in Spangler Stadium. GWU had its first low-scoring loss on November 9, scoring just 14 points in a 24-14 setback at Presbyterian.

ALL-AMERICA PERFORMANCE

Linebacker Darien Reynolds (6-0, 224, Jr.) has been among the more consistent tacklers in the Big South Conference – and the nation – through 11 games played this season. The Charlotte, N.C., native ranks second in the league and No. 8 nationally with 117 total tackles (10.5 per game), setting a new career-high several weeks ago in pursuit of All-America honors. He has posted at least 10 tackles – but no more than 13 – in seven different games this season. He has posted a season-high 13 total stops five times and had 12 hits on the road at Presbyterian last Saturday. That effort also put Reynolds over the 200-tackle mark for his career (214). He also leads Gardner-Webb with eight pass break ups and is well on his way to a repeat of All-Big South Conference honors.

CAGLE'S CAREER YEAR

Entering the 2019 season, veteran running back Jayln Cagle (6-0, 199, Sr.) had been a steady, durable option in the run game for Gardner-Webb. He entered with a best season of 474 yards in 2017 and four touchdowns in 2018, with no more than 126 carries in any of his previous three campaigns. The Kannapolis, N.C., native has surged in 2019 and ranks No. 3 in the Big South Conference through 11 games with a career-high 202 carries for 916 yards and eight touchdowns (83.3 per game). Cagle is still on track for Gardner-Webb's first 1,000-yard rushing effort since 2013 (Juane Blount) and moved past the 2,000-yard mark for his career with 77 yards vs. North Alabama (11/16). He ranks No. 9 in Gardner-Webb history with 2,047 yards rushing and is fifth in receptions by a running back. He currently has 61 career receptions for 437 yards and three scores.

BIG PLAY ZAY

Receiver Izaiah Gathings (6-4, 216, So.) casts a long shadow with his size and strength at the position, and his production over the past month has been dazzling. The former Statesville (N.C.) High standout has produced three-straight games with 100+ yards and has caught at least one touchdown pass in six consecutive games. He is the first receiver in Big South Conference history with three-straight games of 10+ receptions and 100+ yards receiving. He is only the third man in Big South history with a touchdown catch in six-straight games, joining Duvaughn Flagler (GWU) and Jerome Simpson (Coastal Carolina) in that club. He earlier tied a league mark by catching multiple TD in three-straight games. He is the first receiver in the league with 10 touchdowns in a season since Gardner-Webb's Dobson Collins did so in 2008. So far in 2019, Gathings has been strong to the tune of 60 catches for 929 yards and 10 scores. He is on pace to become the first 1,000-yard receiver since Kenny Cook in 2013.

HAMMER TIME

Cade Hamilton (6-1, 223, So.) went down early with an injury at East Carolina and missed the following two games before getting clearance to return to practice during Gardner-Webb's open date. The former East Rutherford (N.C.) High star made a triumphant return at Western Carolina, collecting nine big tackles in a 24-21 win. He was even better in the Hampton win (10/12), collecting a career-high 19 total tackles (nine solo) while filling in for suspended starter Darien Reynolds (targeting). Hamilton stepped up and stopped Hampton's Deondre Francois at the two-yard line going in as time expired in the first half, keeping a 24-21 deficit intact heading into the locker room. That earned Hamilton honorable mention national Defensive Player of the Week honors and sparked a major production surge. Hamilton has collected 78 total tackles in just 31 quarters of football so far this season. He missed the second half of the season opener and played only one quarter at ECU in the second game of the season. Hamilton had an eye-popping 319 total tackles in his final two high school seasons at East Rutherford.

WHITLOW CAN THROW

Transfer quarterback Kalen Whitlow (6-1, 194, Gr.) has proven to be one of the more effective passers in the Big South Conference this season, hitting for at least one touchdown through the air in seven consecutive games. Whitlow has completed 154-of-243 passes for 1,857 yards and 18 touchdowns (seven interceptions) – with his primary production coming against Big South Conference foes. He has a pair of 300-yard performances under his belt, the first for any GWU quarterback since Lucas Beatty in 2014. Whitlow played sparingly in his one season at FCS Tennessee State (2018) following an injury-plagued junior college career in Mississippi. He originally signed with Western Carolina University (FCS) after a strong career at Northview (Ala.) High in Montgomery.

ANOTHER HONOR

For the second time this season, Izaiah Gathings (6-4, 216, So.) was named honorable mention FCS STATS National Offensive Player of the Week. The Statesville, N.C., native earned the recognition following 12 catches for 143 yards and a pair of touchdowns vs. North Alabama.

ON THE AIR AGAIN

For the first time since 2003, Gardner-Webb football will have a broadcast presence on a commercial radio station. All 12 regular season games, and any postseason games, will air live on WGNC (1450 AM / 101.1 FM) in Gastonia, N.C. Veteran play-by-play man Dave Friedman and a color analysts Reggie Walker and Bryan Fetzter will serve as talent. Walker is a former collegiate player at Penn State and Fetzter, who played collegiately at Canisius, is the former head track & field coach at Gardner-Webb and the University of Virginia. The station is available online via the TuneIn app.

THE STREAM TEAM

Each of Gardner-Webb's five home games will stream live on ESPN+ ($4.99 per month subscription), with the Voice of the Runnin' Bulldogs Fabian Fuentes joined by analyst Brendan Boylan. ESPN+ is the home of the Big South Network for the second season in a row.

BATTERING RAM

Veteran nose guard Josh Ramseur (5-11, 292, Gr.) has been a force in the middle for Gardner-Webb this season, bulling his way to a career-high 52 total tackles and 7.0 tackles for loss. The sixth-year graduate student had 50 tackles in an All-Conference effort in 2017 and is currently pursuing his MBA at Gardner-Webb. Ramseur made a career-high 10 total stops and had three tackles for loss at FBS East Carolina.

PICK THIS

After struggling to force turnovers in the secondary in 2018, Gardner-Webb has nearly doubled its efforts in 2019, intercepting 11 passes through 11 games played. A pair of players have games with two interceptions – Devin Mines did so at Charlotte (8/29) and Robert McKoy repeated the feat at Presbyterian (11/9). Gardner-Webb did not pick off a pass vs. North Alabama (11/16), but did recover two fumbles.

KEENE ISLAND

Cornerback A.J. Keene (5-10, 170, Sr.) is often a forgotten man within Gardner-Webb's defensive accolades, but the Savannah, Ga., native has played a key role in 2019. Keene has started all 11 games and has performed well, making 29 total tackles (20 solo), breaking up five passes and picking off a pair of passes for 21 yards in returns. Teams have often made the choice to throw to the other side of the field instead of testing Keene's prowess.

THE CANDIDATE

First-year receiver/return man Devron Harper (5-10, 165, Fr.) has made a strong case for inclusion in any discussion of Freshman of the Year candidates, both on a conference and national level. He was named to the initial Jerry Rice Award Watch List this past week as a result. The speedster had his most explosive game offensively to date against Hampton (10/12), catching four passes for 187 yards and a touchdown. The Conyers, Ga., native had receptions of 70 and 90 yards in the game and finished with 200+ all-purpose yards for the third time in six contests. Harper starred at Heritage (Ga.) High during a standout prep career in both football and track. He was the Georgia Class 3A State high jump champion in both 2017 and 2018. He was named FCS National Freshman of the Week (Sept. 23) by STATS and has been named honorable mention national Freshman of the Week by STATS twice (Sept. 2 / Oct. 14). Harper had a career-high 10 catches at Presbyterian (11/9) and set up a Gardner-Webb touchdown drive with a 37-yard kickoff return. He remains among the national leaders in combined kick returns and kickoff return average, despite teams' insistence on kicking away from his location.

LONG DISTANCE

Devron Harper's 90-yard catch-and-sprint against Hampton (10/12) set new Big South Conference records for longest non-TD catch overall – and longest reception by a freshman. It also broke a 31-year old school record of 89 yards set against Catawba on October 15, 1988 when Bruce Benson hit Kelvin Richardson for 89 yards. With his 70-yard touchdown catch, Harper became the first receiver in Big South history to have two catches of 70+ yards in the same game. His 187 yards receiving marked the highest total for a GWU player since Kenny Cook went for a school and conference-record 251 yards in an overtime win at VMI on October 18, 2014.

UNIQUE POSITION

With two games remaining, Gardner-Webb finds itself in a unique position offensively. The Runnin' Bulldogs are within striking distance to finish with a 2,000-yard passer (Whitlow), a 1,000-yard receiver (Gathings) and a 1,000-yard rusher (Cagle). The Runnin' Bulldogs haven't accomplished that feat since 2013, when Lucas Beatty (quarterback), Kenny Cook (receiver) and Juanne Blount (runner) did so.

ANOTHER ONE

Gardner-Webb has enjoyed a strong three-pronged attack at receiver for much of the year with Izaiah Gathings, Devron Harper and Chuma Awanna each catching more than 30 balls. One of the best all-around receivers has taken off of late, however, with Jameson Turner (6-4, 211, Fr.) joining the party. Over the last three games, Turner has hauled in 11 catches for 131 yards and three touchdowns – and earned his first starting assignment against North Alabama on November 16.
